BULLET IN HEART.

Edward A. Simmons Ends His Troubles With A Pistol.

Was Despondent Over Lack of Work And Other Troubles.

Edward A. Simmons, until recently an engineer at the Dalton Stone Works, committed suicide on New Year's morning, shooting himself in the heart. About two weeks ago the rock quarry shut down and threw him out of employment and he had ever since been in a very despondent frame of mind.

On Friday morning he arose early and went to a butcher shop to get some meat for the family breakfast. Soon after returning he went into another room and shot himself. He had told his wife upon waking, up that he intended to kill himself that day, but she did not take the threat seriously. It was afterwards that he went down in town for the meat.

Mr. Simmons was formerly an engineer on the L. & N. railroad, several years ago. It is said he had been promised a new position at the Asylum this week.

Deceased was about 45 years old and leaves a wife and several children.

Coroner Allensworth held an inquest over the body and a verdict of suicide was rendered.

The deceased was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge of Henderson. Members of the local lodge accompanied the remains to the Simmons burying ground, near Elm, Saturday, where the interment took place.

MBROKE GANG

To Indicted and Tried at Once.

Grand Jury Now in Session--summe of the Terrible Crimes.

Cit court convened yesterday in a session to try the Pembroke murderers.

Ju Thos. Cook, Commonwealth Attorney Smith and Circuit Clerk Claude Clark, qualified for terms of office and the first business done was to empanel the special grand jury, as follows:

J. Dabney, foreman; G. W. Cobb, Wm. McGar, C. W. Garrett, D. Jones, W. E. Adeock, ClaBoates, K. G. Rickman, Geo. B. 4t, W. T. Bonte, J. M. BulbarMatthew Croft.

Twenty jurists have been sworn for to-morrow.

Subsequently was ordered to bring these prisoners from Madisonville.

Resume of the Case.

A special session of court is for the indictment and trial of nine negroes, who are charged with the murder and robbery of an unknown white man, who was sleeping by a car fire on the night of Nov. 14, near Pembroke, Ky.

The nine men charged with the crime are: George Holland, aged 50, 1k Carney, aged 32, Jack Masie, aged 72, Giles Finch, aged 27, 1 Holland, aged 25, 1l Garrett, aged 30, 1 Moseley, aged 19, Jack Merriwether, aged 22, Jack Sherman, aged 25.

The arrests were brought about by Detective Lawrence Moore, assisted by Town Marshal Joseph E. Jason, of Pembroke. George Holland was first arrested and when confronted with certain points of evidence against him he confessed and implicated seven more men.

Lar Ed Moseley told the officers that he saw the murder committed as he was afraid to tell it and he was taken in charge.

According to Holland's confession the negroes were in Pembroke, on Saturday, Nov. 14, and saw the stranger display a roll of money and watched him when he went to R. A. Chilton's farm and camped in the woods. He built a fire and went to sleep. The negroes during the night crept upon him and Holland says Merriwether dealt the sleeping man a murderous blow with the pick handle afterwards found in the leaves. The body quivered, and to complete the work George Holland sprang upon the dying man and cut his throat, while Bill Garrett held him. He says Sherman was the leader, but all of the gang took part in searching and robbing the body. The spoils were divided and the murderers then disfigured the dead man's face by cutting away the flesh and burying it in the ground. They lacerated the throat, cut off the ears and mutilated the body. The clothes were slashed and torn, the shoes taken off and burned and the body dragged to the pile of rails some distance away and concealed, where it was afterwards found. When found it had been rooted about by hogs and had the appearance of having been partially devoured.

Gov. Becham offered a reward of $250 for the capture and conviction of the murderers. County Judge Fowler offered $50 and these amounts were supplemented by the people of Pembroke, who subscribed $100 to a reward fund.

A glove dropped near the scene by Frank Mercedith, alias Merriwether, was the first clue discovered and he was kept under watch. George Holland's actions also excited suspicions and it was finally decided to take him in charge with the result given above.

The identity of the murdered man is still a mystery.

The prisoners were arrested Dec. 12 and after remaining in the Hopkinsville jail for two weeks were taken to Madisonville Dec. 24, on account of rumors of mob violence.

SHOPS DESTROYED.

Tennessee Central Suffers by Fire in Nashville.

The East Yard shops of the Tennessee Central Railroad, in South Nashville, were destroyed by fire Thursday evening, the fire breaking out in the blacksmith shop at 6:45 o'clock. The total valuation of property burned and damaged will reach about $150,000, the actual loss between $75,000 and $80,000. The loss borne by the railroad will not be more than $18,000. The insurance carried was $74,000.

The shops will be rebuilt at once and on the same site. They will be built on a larger scale than formerly and will be arranged with a view toward further extension when the need demands. The insurance will cover all losses.

The talk of war between Japan and Russia is still a front page topic with the newspapers, but the news from St. Petersburg is of a more hopeful tone. The answer of Russia to Japan's peace proposal is expected in a few days.

The new State officers, excepting the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, who qualified Dec. 8th, went into office yesterday. The only political change is in the case of the Attorney General, Hon. N. B. Democrat, succeeding Judge Hayes C. J. Pratt, Republican.

At Cannel City, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Candill and Mrs. J. T. Candill are remarkable couples in that the husbands are twins and the wives are twins and all are red-headed. The men are very much alike and the women can hardly be distinguished by their own husbands. The husbands did their courting together and the couples were both married under one ceremony.

Circuit Judge-elect John P. Newman, of Newport, died Friday of a hemorrhage of the lungs, after an illness of nine weeks. He had taken the oath of office, but as he died three days before his term was to begin, an interesting question is raised. It is not clear whether his predecessor, Judge J. T. Hodge, will hold over, or a new election be ordered.

Auditor Hager has announced his intention to appoint Mr. J. A. Fuqua, of Owensboro, to be one of the four auditor's agents authorized by a special law passed in 1902. All The Financial Concerns Enjoying Prosperous Business, As Shown by Statements.

The local banks present to the public in this issue of the Kentucky statements of their condition at the close of business Dec. 31, 1903. All of these financial institutions are conducted by business men of experience and the statements show a most excellent condition.

Bank of Lafayette.

In this issue also appears the statement of the Bank of Lafayette at the close of the year and a perusal of same is invited. The statement shows this bank to be in a thriving condition, which fact will be of general interest to the people of that section.

Farmers and Merchants Bank.

We present to our readers a statement of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Pembroke, at the close of business Dec. 31, 1903. The statement is a most excellent one in every detail and shows a most prosperous and substantial condition.

Bank of Pembroke.

The statement of the Bank of Pembroke is published in this paper to-day and the attention of the public is called to same. The figures show this financial concern to be one of the most substantial in this section. A perusal of the savings department will prove of especial interest.

Richard L. Butler, who recently filed suit against Policeman L. A. Morris and his sureties for $1,000 damages, has brought another damage suit against Ex-Lieutenant of Police, Harvey McCord and the City of Hopkinsville, for a similar amount. He alleges that in October last McCord, is making an arrest, unlawfully clubbed the plaintiff. It is further alleged that the city did not require of McCord the bond prescribed, and therefore the town is made a party to the suit.

PROVERBS

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take to it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you the penny, I. e., a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY

Will Have A Creditable Exhibit At the Fair.

Outline of Exhibit Already Arranged and promised.

Christian county expects to bring back from the Louisville Purchase Exposition several medals on her tobacco, corn and wheat. The World's Fair committee for the county is now engaged in collecting samples for these exhibits to be made through the Kentucky Exhibition Association at Louisville. The county will also make a display of minerals, consisting chiefly of coal and stone. The Empire Coal Mining Co. has agreed to furnish a section of coal from its mine. L. H. Davis, of Hopkinsville, is to ship in one run of curbing and one of flagging from his plant operated near Hopkinsville. He has also promised a large cube of building stone showing four styles of finish of dressing. This is a hard blue limestone. Another interesting display from the county will be a concrete section of street curbing and gutter, furnished by the H. M. Dalton stone Co., of Hopkinsville. This company furnishes crushed stone for ballast, macadamizing and concrete and in addition to the curbing and gutter Mr. Dalton is to ship some crushed from each of these purposes. Of course, the schools of Hopkinsville will have a place in the educational exhibit to be made from the association and Miss Katie McDaniel, the superintendent here is arranging for a display from the county, and Prof. J. B. Taylor for City Schools will prepare one for Hopkinsville schools. Several citizens of the county are arranging for display of relics, etc., in the Kentucky building. W. S. Boone, of Fruit Hill, has some valuable relics of the colonial period for the purpose, while Dr. F. E. Grace, of Haley mill, owns a flag carried in the Revolutionary War by Colonel Campbell, of North Carolina. This flag is of fine silk and beautifully made. Mr. Chas. O. Prowse, of Hopkinsville, has a pen and ink drawing of the birth-place of Jefferson Davis, near Fairview in this county, which will also be sent to the exposition. Among other interesting exhibits for the county will be some handpainted china by Miss May Ware, of Hopkinsville. W. R. Bowles, of Hopkinsville, has been appointed Official World's Fair Photographer for Christian county and is now taking view for the several departments.

Don't Worry.

This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the case is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least. On the other hand, if within your control you have only to act. When you have a cold and fear an attack of pneumonia, buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it judiciously and all cause for worry as to the outcome will quickly disappear. There is no danger of pneumonia when it is used. For sale by Cook & Higgins, druggists.

JEWELS IN BRITISH CROWN.

Most Important Are Large Spinel Ruby and Two Sapphires.

The most important historic jewels in the present Imperial crown are the large spinel ruby in the center of the front cross and the large pale sapphire on the right of the crown front and the small but finely colored sapphire in the center of the cross-pate above the normal at the top of the crown, says the London Globe.

The history of these called rubies is well known and is of great interest. In the fourteenth century, according to Cyril Davenport in the Compendium, it belonged to the king of Granada, and Pedro the Cruel, king of Castile, received this king under the guise of friendship in the Alcazar at Seville. Here he was murdered for the sake of his jewels, among which was this stone. Pedro afterward gave it to Edward the Black Prince after the battle of Navarrete as a mark of gratitude for his successful help and it is also supposed to have been worn in the crown of Henry V. at Agincourt. On this occasion it may have helped to save the king's life, as the Duke of Alencon aimed a blow at Henry, which was turned by his crown, then worn over his helmet.

The stone is a finely colored, deep red spinel, a mineral which is chiefly found in the river beds of Ceylon, Burma and Siam. Like most oriental stones, this particular jewel has been pierced; the top of the piercing is now filled by a small ruby set in gold and the stone is irregular, but polished on its natural irregular surface. It is irregularly drop-shaped and about two inches in length.

The second notable jewel in the Imperial crown is the large pale sapphire in the front of the circlet. It was worn in the crown of Charles II. and ultimately became the property of Cardinal York, who bequeathed it to the prince regent, afterward George IV. The prince gave it to Princess Charlotte, but on her death it was returned, as it was properly considered to be a crown jewel. It is partially pierced, which may mean it was intended to be used as a head, but never finished; or it might perhaps have been intended to serve as a support for an aigrette, in which case a half-piercing would be enough. It is set on an enrichment, an oval and medieval stones were, and its colored stones should be, the edges being trimmed into the form of a long symmetrical oval. No doubt this is an oriental stone; it is about two inches in length.

Edward the Confessor's emerald is much smaller and of a deep color; it has been recent in brilliant form, probably for Charles II. which was quite unnecessary. It is said to have been taken out of the Confessor's ring, which was buried with him, and it has the reputation of being an antidote to cramp. A story told about it relates that the Confessor in one of his walks about Westminster met a beggar who asked for alms and the saint being at that moment short of money gave him his ring in charity in the name of St. John. Some time afterward some English pilgrims, traveling in the holy land, got into difficulties and consulted an old man, a stranger, who happened to be in their company. On hearing that the travelers were English, he revealed himself to them as St. John, the special patron of Edward, king of England, and he assisted them out of their troubles, and gave them a ring to take back to their monarch, with the message that he would meet him in paradise in six months' time. When in due time Edward received the ring he at once recognized it as the one he had given to the Westminister beggar, and when he died according to the saint's prediction it was buried with him in his shrine at Westminister.

Cock-Crowing Competition.

The feature of a carnival held at Silvertown, Devon, was a cock-crowing competition. Owners of birds had to bring them to the village schoolroom and set them crowing one against the other. For those cockerels which crowed the loudest and the longest prizes were given. Mr. Jennings' bird was easily first, crowing 51 times in 17 minutes. The second and third bird crowed 42 and 33 times respectively in the 17 minutes.

FARMER IN WINTER.

Tasks That Keep Country Folk Stirring in Cold Weather.

The great steady winter jobs on an American farm in the north nowadays are feeding the stock and keeping warm, writes E. S. Martin, in Harper's Magazine. And keeping warm nowadays means huddling round. When I lived in the country it meant cutting wood. It meant, for our large family, constant teaming day after day from the woods to the wood-yard, and a wood-pile that must have covered a quarter of an acre. It meant, towards spring, the coming of men with a horse-power and buzzsaw to cut fire-wood, and that was almost as interesting as the operation as thrashing.

There were other stirring days when the lake and frozen land and the ice house was filled, involving ice-cutting, and more teaming, and more precarious hitching on behind loads and going back in empties. And early in the winter there was the monotonous and gory killing of pigs. Oh, that was indeed a stirring time! They kill a pig every second, no doubt, in Chicago nowadays, but that is more mechanical routine with no quality of sport in it.

There was nothing so very slow about the country winter in days as late as the civil war. I suppose soap-making was a domestic industry as it is today as household spinning. In those times of wood fires and woodashes all self-respecting families made soap. Our family had an outstanding kitchen expressly for that use, with a big cast-iron hobstead behind it in which ashes were leached, and convenient trays for holding the soft soap. A very handsome substance is soft soap of the proper consistency and complexion, and a pleasing exercise it used to be for the young to stir it with a stick and watch its undulations. All the superfluous fat of meat from our kitchen was turned into soft soap in those near-by old times.

Colds and Grippe Prevented.

If the conditions in your system interfere with the proper action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, you are taking great chances for severe colds and grippe. If your system, however, is in a perfectly healthy state, you can withstand sudden changes and exposure to cold weather. Put the liver, kidneys and bowels in a perfectly healthy condition by using Dr. Cassell's Syrup. Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill. 50c and $1.00 bottle.

LOUISIANA PURCHASE GOLD DOLLAR.

Finest Example of Modern Coinage Art.

"The late coins issued from the United States Mint at Philadelphia to commemorate the Louisiana Purchase Gold Dollar have been pronounced by numismatists the finest examples of modern coinage art. This coinage, which will live as a metallic memorial of the great World's Fair of 1894, was provided for by a specific Act of Congress which also limits the issue to 250,000 pieces. The entire coinage will be delivered direct to the Exposition Company and will represent a part of the Government's general appropriation of $5,000,000 for the Exposition.

These specially designed coins are of two types: two obverses having the same reverse; 125,000 bear an excellent likeness to Thomas Jefferson—the Government father of the Louisiana Purchase. This portrait of Jefferson, which is pronounced the best known, was taken from one of the medals in the Mint cabinet, the original of which was engraved by John Reich, who, for some years during the Jefferson period, was connected with the Mint. The other 125,000 present the profile of William McKinley, the Government father of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The McKinley portrait was taken from a Mint cabinet medal, for which the late president gave special sitting to Mint Engraver Charles E. Barber, and which is considered by the president's friends his best portrait.

Surrounding these profile portraits is the inscription: United States of America. The reverse is inscribed: Louisiana Purchase Exposition St. Louis which surrounds One Dollar 1893 1903 and a small olive branch, emblematic of peace.

Gold dollars were first issued in 1849 and ceased every year until discontinued in 1889. During these forty years over nineteen million pieces passed to circulation, and though it is less than fifteen years since they ceased to be coined, all have disappeared from circulation. In fact this type of coin is a curiosity to many and the most common dealers command $2 each from coin collectors and the rarest, 1875, is in demand at prices approaching $50.

The general interest that is to be found for the regular issue prompted the Exposition Company to adopt the gold dollar for its commemorative coinage, and the prices for the regular issue commands, considering large number that were coined, led to placing the price of $300 the Louisiana Purchase gold dollar. In an official circular it is stated: "No coins of this issue will be placed upon sale at a lower figure." Most all who will find an interest in preserving this coin, which may be called a gem, will want both types and in this respect only 125,000 purchasers can be accommodated.

The Louisiana Purchase gold dollar is the fourth child in the numismatic family of United States commemorative issues; it is the diminutive member of that family but the most artistic and powerful, as it is the finest example of designing, engraving and stamping and is of gold. The older members of the family are less fine and all in the baser metal, silver.

Justice to its artistic merits cannot be done in an illustration. The excellent portraiture that has been reproduced within the diameter of half an inch is indicative of our country's progress and leadership in the art of die engraving and metal stamping. From the Numismatist.

In a Hospital.

Dr. W. M. Smith, city physician of Des Moines and head of the local board of health, wrote to Dr. B. B. Caldwell at Monticello, Ill., on Jan. 14th, 1903, as follows: "Dear Sir: I have used your Syrup Pepsin in the city hospital with very satisfactory results to myself and patients. I find it a mild and pleasant laxative, and also very palatable. M. M. Smith, City Physician."

Moayon's Great Loom End Sale Starts Jan. 9.

The John Moayon Company has purchased from manufacturers direct the loom ends in a variety of goods. These consist of outings, flannelettes, ginghams, percales, laces and embroideries. These will be sold at prices far below the cost of manufacture. This great special sale for this purpose will begin Saturday Jan. 9, and continue ten days.

No such opportunity for bargains has ever been offered by any merchant in Hopkinsville.

These goods are not defective remnants, shop room samples or out-of-date patterns, but are new and strictly up-to-date goods. Patterns are for the coming spring of 1904. Do not fail to attend this sale. If you don't need the goods now it will pay you to buy them while they can be had at the unheard of prices they will be offered at. The Moayon Company is proposing to handle the sale with an extra force and are prepared for any rush that may come. They do not believe in deceiving the public with so-called cheap sales, quoting cut prices on a few articles and raising prices on others. Remember the date--Saturday Jan. 9.

BARLOW AND WILSON'S

Minstrels Next Attraction at Holland's Opera House.

The great Barlow and Wilson's minstrel will appear at Holland's opera house next Friday night, Jan. 8. They are always popular in Hopkinsville and on the occasion of their visit here this week they will present a high-class program.

A recent issue of the Cincinnati Enquirer had the following mention of their appearance in that city:

"There was a gathering of minstrel lovers that packed the opera house to the doors last night, that assembled to pay court to Barlow and Wilson's minstrels, as they appear on their annual engagement. The performance consisted entirely of modern attractions. The people went to witness the fine de sicle minstrels of the season, and found them leaders by several lengths, for everything went fast enough to keep the most lively on the qui vive. Their efficient agent told the truth when he said that the company was better this year than ever before. The performance abounds in new features, which kept the audience in a continual state of hilarity, the hit of the evening being made by 'The Great Barlow and Wilson.' The vocal numbers are gems of the first water. The company is far superior to the usual standard attraction."

Flinch Club.

The Main street flinch club will meet Friday night with Misses Fannie and Lillie Belle Phelps. Members who cannot attend are expected to notify in advance.

HURT-PHIPPS.

Quiet Wedding Takes Place on Seventeenth Street.

Mr. J. E. Hurt, a well known young farmer of near Fairview, and Miss Amy Phipps, daughter of Mrs. W. W. Phipps, were married late last Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Robt. Brown, on East Seventeenth street. Only a few of the relatives and most intimate friends of the young people witnessed the happy affair.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Gotobick of Colusa, Calif., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

More Than Three Hundred Issued During Past Year.

There were 326 marriage licenses issued by the County Clerk during the year 1903. They were divided as follows: white, 147; colored 179. This is a slight increase over the year before, but the number issued in December fell considerably short of the December 1902 issue.

XMAS

Is over and I wish to extend to my many friends and customers my heartfelt gratitude for the liberal patronage given me during the year 1903, and solicit a liberal share of same the coming year. I am going to continue to do business at the same old stand--No. 8 Main Street--and my purpose is to carry a first class stock of goods and make prices that will please the closest and most economical buyers. Try me and if I fail to treat you right, you are at liberty to pass me by.
